Mission & Vision Statement

Our mission is to develop ALLROUND PERSONALITY of students by making them not only excellent professionals but also good individuals with understanding and regard for human value, pride in their heritage and culture, a sense of right and wrong, a yearning for perfection and a thirst for knowledge. We try to develop a rational and scientific outlook on life. We strive to absorb positive aspects of both tradition and modernism instead of seeing them as contradictions.

Management for Excellence

Maharishi Dayanand Saraswati rose on the Indian horizon when India was passing through the era of superstitions, social evils, illiteracy, ignorance and slavery. He promised his Guru Swami Virjanand that he would spread the light of the Vedas throughout the length and breadth of the country. As a true patriot, in his acclaimed work Satyarth Prakash, he enunciated the doctrine of India's independence by talking about Swaraj and Swadeshi. After the death of Swamiji on October 30, 1883 his followers decided that an Educational Institution would be the best memorial in the honour of their mentor.

The first D.A.V. School was opened on Tuesday, June 1, 1886 with Sh. Hans Raj as Head Master (now known as Mahatma Hans Raj). Dayanand Anglo Vedic College Trust and Management Society got registered on August 17, 1886 with the objectives of teaching and learning of:

- a) Hindi Literature
- b) Classical Sanskrit of the Vedas
- c) English literature for the study of Science and Technology (both theoretical and applied)

The society today runs more than 900 institutions in India and abroad which include Schools, Colleges, Technical Institutes, Research Centres, Medical Colleges, Schools for weaker sections, Centres for mentally and physically handicapped children, Old age Homes and Orphanages.

Introduction

D.A.V. PUBLIC SCHOOLS

D.A.V. College Trust and Management Society founded in 1886 today has the most unenviable position of being the largest educational set up in the country in the Private Sector, especially in the field of public school education. Its sole objective is to impart quality education on modern lines to the coming generations so as to equip them with the knowledge and temperament essential to shoulder the responsibilities of the scientific age. The society can now legitimately take credit and pride for running more than 900 educational institutions including colleges and public model schools all over India catering to the educational, physical and moral needs of the children.

From the Principal's Desk...

The new source of power is not money in the hands of a few, but the information in the hands of many. This is the mantra for today's world. No one can deny the impact of information and communication technology on our lives and particularly in shaping our outlook. The world has shrunk into a global village and has brought information at the door step of the individual. In short, the technology has touched each aspect of life and has influenced the way we think, act and react. In such a scenario, the role and responsibility of an educational institution too, starts assuming different dimensions. Schools can neither operate in isolation nor detach themselves from the effects of new onslaught. A good school therefore needs to have a system that flexes itself to absorb the changes and reaps the rich benefits of the harvest. At the same time, it should also adopt measures to ensure that a healthy environment is created where individual's creativity and originality of expression is allowed to blossom, where culture, tradition and values are preserved and perpetuated and where change is synergized to nurture wholesome, complete and holistic personalities. We need to be like the trees that grow on the hill top taking on its stride whatever changes the winds bring with them. It has no choice for its survival but to put down its roots deeper and deeper into the soil and stand loftily looking at the sun. With this vision, we prepare our students so that they can fetch the wagon of our country to new horizon in the coming years. Under the leadership of our worthy President, Padmashri Dr. Punam Suri Ji and able guidance of worthy Chairman, Sh. Prabodh Mahajan ji, we strive hard to achieve excellence in all fields and fulfill the dream of Maharishi Dayanand.

I warmly invite you to explore DAV as we re-dedicate ourselves everyday to impart the very best education to the young minds.
